

CORE SERVICES

Threat Vulnerability Assessment

TSSI professionals provide efficient, cost-effective threat and vulnerability assessments for both government and commercial customers. A threat and vulnerability assessment is the first step in creating a total security plan. We apply science-based methodologies to identify and analyze relevant threats using systems-based techniques and tools. We capture threat exposures in multiple categories, all the way from the number of people injured or killed to long-term economic impacts to your business. Then, we apply the results of the assessment to creating science-based, customized, efficient, cost-effective security plans and operational programs based on the best practices of the security profession.

Intelligence Gathering & Analysis

TSSI professionals are skilled in intelligence gathering and analysis. We recognize that our adversaries are smart and calculating so we must be smarter. Ready to sabotage and destroy our nation's critical infrastructure or disrupt and damage your property and profitability; they may be foreign or domestic terrorists planning to attack your people and facilities; competitors trying to steal your trade secrets; criminals intent on stealing your property; or even a greedy, disgruntled or unbalanced employee embezzling your money or intent on revenge for a perceived insult. TSSI intelligence professionals and consultants draw on their credentialed experience in America's most elite military and civilian intelligence organizations, including the U.S. Army, U.S. Coast Guard, FBI and CIA.

Counter-Terrorism Planning

TSSI professionals create flexible, cost-effective counter-terrorism plans for federal, state and local government agencies and commercial clients. We reduce their vulnerability to terrorism by applying science-based methods and best practices to prevent an attack in the first place and minimize casualties and damages should an attack occur. We are specialists in counter-terrorism planning for the transportation and trucking industries; for industrial buildings, monuments and 'icons' - such as the IBM building and the Statue of Liberty; and for special events, such as the NFL Super Bowl, the 1996 Atlanta Olympics, and the Rose Bowl parade and football game.

Emergency Preparedness

TSSI professionals apply a multi-disciplinary approach to emergency management that allows our customers to plan for and respond to any emergency - a fire, terrorist attack, school-shooting, hostage situation or a natural disaster such as a hurricane, flood, tornado, wildfire or earthquake. In an emergency, you need to be prepared to protect your people and assets from the impacts of any emergency. TSSI is uniquely positioned to offer our customers customized plans and training programs for emergency management based on your day-to-day operations, plans that can flex in any emergency, including a once in a lifetime catastrophe, such as a terrorist attack or natural disaster.

Corporate Rapid Response Capabilities

TSSI professionals help our corporate customers develop plans and training programs that enable them to act quickly in any security situation that requires a rapid response to protect people and assets. In a crisis such as a terrorist attack, shooting or hostage situation, government agencies and first responders may be unable to respond with immediate aid in time to protect the people you are responsible for and secure your facilities. If you are responsible for providing security where there are many people - such as a large building, a shopping mall, a school, a cruise ship, a sports stadium, a department store, a theater, a church, a special event at any location - you need to be prepared to offer a rapid response on your own. TSSI professionals know how to help you protect your people, your property and your profitability. We enhance your rapid response capabilities with science-based, customized, cost-effective plans and programs that apply the best practices of the security discipline.

Education & Training

TSSI experts offer award-winning Anti-Terrorism and Emergency Planning Programs aimed to create best practices, reduce liability, and most importantly, save lives. The training is done at your site, with your personnel, in your environment for ease of adaptability to fit your specific needs and situations.

Preparedness Exercises

TSSI conducts multi-modal, tabletop training exercises designed to prepare organizations for response to a terrorist attack. TSSI has successfully conducted exercises that consisted of multiple, near-simultaneous events at industry events and conferences. Our tabletop exercises include scripts and PowerPoint slide shows with all of the incidents, scenarios, and post-exercise discussion and debriefing points. Our custom designed tabletop exercises are developed specifically to meet your exercising goals and requirements. Storylines are developed for your geography, facilities, resources as well as those threats, hazards and vulnerabilities that concern you. TSSI then conducts the exercise for you on-site.

Anti-Terrorism Operations & Products

TSSI, Inc. provides the finest products that support national and homeland security initiatives and that complement our emergency preparedness, disaster response, and incident command services. Our acclaimed TotalSecurity.US Management System (TSMS™) which integrates and manages all components of your security program is the perfect solution for both government and commercial leaders to plan for and respond to multiple threats and multiple sites in an efficient and cost effective way. TSSI offers other cutting edge products from its virtual tool ResponderVIEW™, to its bio-chemical attack identifier MailDefender®, to our rapid response products such as tents, shelters, command posts, and much more.

Call Center & Information Sharing Operations

TSSI's customized call center solutions help those who are engaged in Critical Infrastructure Protection. The information sharing initiatives we offer create a seamless integration of watches, call centers, fusion centers and ISACs. Our call center operations combine the latest technology with exceptional customer service and security expertise. TSSI's comprehensive capabilities utilize our talent, dedication and resources to leave a powerful impression on you, and your customers alike. Our systems utilize the most advanced call-routing and real-time management technology to integrate our call center services with rock-solid operational security, homeland security and emergency management capabilities.

EEO/Diversity Training & Investigations

TSSI, Inc. provides quality consulting and training to help your employees understand your company requirements along with their personal requirements to ensure full compliance with EEO and Affirmative Action laws. Designed to fit the needs of your company or agency managers and employees, TSSI provides consulting and training services in basic EEO training; Equality, Affirmative Action and Diversity/Inclusion; EEO Harassment and Sexual Harassment Prevention Training. TSSI is also able to offer a wide range of Human Resources services and consulting services such as: equality and discrimination, effective internal business complaint process creation; investigations and/or mediation to assist in early resolution of EEO complaints; and EEO counseling.

Security Services

TSSI has expanded its capabilities into physical security services, as a natural extension of what it has always done — protecting the public and private sectors. We have a vast network of trained and capable affiliates, who can be called on as a force multiplier, when the need arises. TSSI prides itself on securing the well being of people in and around the workplace. Now, with the addition of security services, TSSI can protect workers, both inside and outside of their facilities. TSSI's security services team is capable of providing Protective Security Details (PSD) and fixed post security programs (Static Post), as well as full-scale criminal, civil, contractual and employment investigations. Alarm monitoring and response programs, are also provided.

For further information about TSSI services and products, contact:

Don L. Rondeau

1700 Rockville Pike, Ste 470

Rockville, MD 20852

Tel: 301-998-6164

Or visit our company website:

www.tssi-inc.com